

QAD America's User Groups

QAD User Groups are exclusive gatherings of QAD's most innovative, creative users in a specific region. They provide easy access to QAD product, service and industry specialists. QAD customers and partners come together to establish mutual support and peer contacts while promoting and advancing the use of their QAD Enterprise Applications ERP systems.

As a member of a User Group, you have the opportunity to share information and network with your industry peers; leverage your direct connection to QAD Research and Development; drive the return on investment for your enterprise, adding value to your team; and build your business and your career.

The QAD America's User Group represents manufacturing companies across North and South America providing a forum for members to share and exchange information through regional educational conferences. QAD currently has the following North American User Groups: West Coast (WeCUG), South & East (SEUG), and Midwest (MWUG).

Each Regional User Group operates independently and typical membership benefits include:

- Network with other companies and knowledgeable individuals that use QAD Enterprise Applications
- Learn about QAD Enterprise Application modules, third party products and relevant manufacturing topics
- Help shape future direction in QAD Enterprise Applications with your feedback on current functionality

Additional benefits may include:

- Discounts to all User Group sponsored events
- Conference papers and handouts
- Free job postings on the membership job boards
- Networking and access to end-user referral services
- Access to member directory with up-to-date contacts
- Quarterly newsletters with updates on User Group activities, product news and more
